The master of laws (LL.M.) degree at Cornell Law School is a one-year program designed for practicing attorneys and recent law school graduates who have earned a first degree in law outside the United States. Through the General LL.M. program, students increase their understanding of American legal principles and can further develop a legal specialization. With just over 700 JD, LL.M., and J.S.D. students, Cornell Law School offers an intimate, collegial, and diverse environment in which students grow through their interactions with one another and with our dedicated and interdisciplinary faculty. Our program allows you to tailor your own course of study based on your individual academic and career objectives while experiencing American law school culture. The Graduate Legal Studies Office can help you design a program of study from more than 170 courses and seminars, including first-year courses, advanced electives, clinical offerings, or courses designed specifically for LL.M. students. We invite you to learn more about what Cornell Law can offer you.

The LLM program at Duke Law School is designed to introduce international law graduates to the legal system of the United States and to provide the opportunity to take advanced courses in specialized areas of the law. LLM students are able to select courses from the full JD curriculum, including clinics and externships, and join extracurricular activities such as law journals and moot court teams. Duke's goal is to integrate LLM and JD students in the whole life of Duke Law School. Students may also take courses in other parts of the university, such as the Fuqua School of Business, Nicolas School of the Environment, or the Sanford School of Public Policy. Duke also offers certificate programs for LLM students in New Ventures and Entrepreneurship; Environmental and Energy Law; Business Law; and IP, Science and Technology Law. If you are looking for an American city with nationally recognized restaurants, vibrant startup culture, abundant entertainment, and easy access to the beach, mountains, and top notch hiking, Durham is the place for you.

SPECIALIZATIONS & POPULAR PROGRAMS

Duke Law offers certificate programs for LLM students in New Ventures and Entrepreneurship; Environmental and Energy Law; Business Law; and IP, Science and Technology Law.

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

Each year, Duke Law School is able to offer merit- and need-based assistance to highly qualified LLM applicants. This financial assistance generally takes the form of varying amounts of tuition scholarships. Applicants who wish to be considered for a Duke Law Scholarship must submit a scholarship request letter with their LLM application.

Fletcher's Master of Laws (LLM) in International Law is designed for lawyers interested in gaining broad expertise in international law.

Our LLM reflects Fletcher's goal of increasing international understanding, and preparing students from around the globe for leadership positions. We differ from traditional law schools because the program is focused exclusively on issues of public and private international law. Our courses cover the spectrum of international law, and are taught by experts with both academic expertise and extensive real world experience.

The interdisciplinary nature of our program allows you, as a student, to see issues of international law in their social, economic, and political contexts. As an LLM student at Fletcher, you build a strong foundation in international law, and will have the opportunity to complement that foundation with courses from the diverse group of political science, history, business and economics courses that make up the Fletcher curriculum.

SPECIALIZATIONS & POPULAR PROGRAMS

International Law

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

Fletcher awards over $7 million in scholarship aid annually. Fletcher scholarships are for tuition only and are awarded to both U.S. citizens/permanent residents and non-U.S. citizens on the basis of a holistic application review and assessment of financial need.

Set amidst the dynamic backdrop of Los Angeles, LMU Loyola Law School's LLM program is a pivotal step for aspiring legal minds. In the heart of California, the state that stands as the U.S. economic leader, Loyola offers unparalleled opportunities, especially for international students.

Our LLM candidates don't just study law; they live it. Fully integrated with American JD students, they navigate a rigorous curriculum, guided by our distinguished faculty, ensuring a comprehensive immersion in the American legal system. Students can customize their curriculum, pursue the Bar Track LLM to maximize their chances of becoming licensed attorneys in the U.S., or delve into one of six specialized legal tracks. The real-world applicability is paramount: our clinical programs, supervised by expert faculty and staff attorneys, empower students to assist real clients on actual cases, merging theory with hands-on legal experience. For those keen on academic research, opportunities to serve as research assistants on campus further accentuate the learning experience.

Beyond academics, Loyola boasts an influential alumni network of successful legal professionals, both domestically and internationally. This community provides an enriching platform for mentorship, networking, and opportunities.

SPECIALIZATIONS & POPULAR PROGRAMS

LLM students at LMU Loyola Law School can select our LLM in American Law (fully customizable), the Bar Track LLM or one of our six specializations (Civil Litigation & Advocacy; Criminal Justice; Cybersecurity & Data Privacy; Entertainment & New Media Law; Intellectual Property; International Business Law)

Northeastern University School of Law offers a suite of LLM programs that are global, flexible, and dynamic. Whether it's unlocking the mysteries of the US legal system, honing your expertise in a particular field of law, working side by side with US lawyers, or qualifying for a US bar examination, the Northeastern LLM helps lawyers achieve their personal and professional goals.

The On-Campus LLM offers a rigorous curriculum that provides students with a comprehensive foundation in legal theory and practice as well as the flexibility to explore and refine their career interests. Students may choose the General Program, which offers maximum flexibility to take the courses needed to meet their particular goals and interests, or one of our concentrations, which provide a competitive advantage in specific fields of interest.

On-Campus LLM students may also opt to complete a three-month co-op placement through the Cooperative Legal Education Program. During co-op, students work full-time alongside attorneys on substantive legal work in a variety of real-world settings as diverse as private law firms, corporations, courthouses, government agencies, community organizations, NGOs, and advocacy groups. All LLM students participate in nine months of classroom instruction; students who participate in a co-op complete the program in twelve months.

Founded in 1847, Tulane Law school is the twelfth oldest law school in the US, and our location in New Orleans places us in one of the most diverse and interesting cities in the US, if not the world. Tulane students have the advantage of a quintessential American college campus experience combined with easy access to a vibrant city. Due to our historical ties to France and Spain, Louisiana is the country's sole civil-law jurisdiction. The unique exposure of both the common law of the Anglo-American tradition and the civil-law systems that dominate the rest of the globe gives Tulane a distinctive understanding of the interaction of different legal systems. Our professors understand how to teach students from civil law backgrounds, and the global perspective of Tulane Law is enlivened by a student body drawn from approximately 25 countries. Tulane considers graduate legal education to be a central part of its identity. In addition to the General LLM and American Law LLM, Tulane offers specialized LLM degrees in our world-renowned strengths of Admiralty and Maritime Law, International and Comparative law, and Energy and Environmental Law. We also offer the JD with Advanced Standing, an SJD program, our interactive Introduction to the Law of the U.S. summer orientation course, and an optional 14-credit add-on program for LLM graduates wishing to prepare for US bar exams.

The University of California Law San Francisco (formerly UC Hastings) was established in 1878 as the first law school of the University of California system.

Our Students: The LL.M. class is a close-knit group who find social and academic support within their cohort. Our LL.M.s also take all but two of their classes with American J.D. students, and participate in student organizations and campus events with J.D. students, allowing all of our students to create lasting friendships.

Specializations: LL.M. candidates may elect to specialize in one of eight areas, including Dispute Resolution & Legal Process, International Business & Trade, International Law & Human Rights, Science Technology & Intellectual Property, Environmental Law, Criminal Law, Health Law & Policy, and Taxation. LL.M. students may also participate in clinics and other hands-on learning opportunities.

On-Campus Housing: UC Law SF offers brand-new fully-furnished apartments to our students. With private kitchens and bathrooms and community amenities, our on-campus apartments offer everything our students need to study, relax, and live among their fellow graduate students.

Our Location: UC Law SF is located in the heart of San Francisco, one of the most beautiful and innovative cities in the nation. UC Law SF is just steps away from City Hall and courthouses and is also the gateway to Silicon Valley, the technological epicenter of the world. This proximity gives UC Law SF students the opportunity to experience the law in the forums where it is practiced and determined.

Ever since the first LLM class graduated from the University of Michigan Law School more than 130 years ago, we have provided a warm, intellectually stimulating, and internationally minded environment for students. Our kind and welcoming community is invested in the academic, professional, and personal successes of our LLM students. Our LLM class is small to allow students to build meaningful and lasting connections with their classmates. Students learn from and pursue research under the guidance of preeminent faculty who spearhead innovative scholarship and reform across myriad legal areas. Our faculty are accessible and approachable, and they host seminars at their homes and invite students to group lunches. Our LLM students take classes with JD students to broaden their understanding of the US legal system and expand their networks. The Law School is an architectural gem situated in the heart of the University of Michigan, one of the world's leading public research institutions. Upon arriving at Michigan Law, students join a University community of more than 45,000 graduate and undergraduate students from six continents. All of this is set in a vibrant university town with easy access to restaurants, cafes, shops, theaters, bars, athletic venues, and parks. This is the Michigan Difference.

For nearly 70 years, UW Law School has been a beacon for international students interested in earning a graduate degree in American law. Our Law-in-Action approach to teaching and learning has made UW Law School well-known among legal scholars, law firms, judges, and attorneys. Law in Action means we don't just teach the basics of legal rules; our students learn why those rules evolve to address social concerns and how those rules operate in the real world. Because of our renowned faculty, unique way of teaching, and student support programs, our graduates leave prepared to address any legal challenge presented to them. All of this makes Wisconsin the ideal place to begin your U.S. legal journey.

UW Law recognizes that what inspires people to attend law school can vary. That is precisely why we created our graduate degree program to allow students to design their studies around the areas of law they want to focus on. Our graduate program only has two required courses, which allows students to select electives in the J.D. curriculum across a variety of topics, including business law, intellectual property, international human rights and much more, to fulfill their degree requirements. The program can be completed in two semesters, with either fall semester entry (September-May) or spring semester entry (January-December).

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

All LL.M. applicants are considered for a scholarship and no additional application or essay is required. Most students receive a partial tuition scholarship. Students who are awarded are still expected to pay more than 50% of the full tuition amount.

Vanderbilt Law School is a top ranked law school located on the beautiful Vanderbilt University campus set in the urban heart of Nashville, Tennessee. The law school combines the advantages of a stimulating university community, a top-tier faculty, a small, carefully selected student body, and a sophisticated, vibrant city. Vanderbilt Law School attracts law students seeking a first-rate academic institution that also affords an excellent quality of life. Vanderbilt offers three LL.M. program options: a general LL.M. degree, a specialized LL.M. in Law and Business, and a Thesis Track option. All program options offer the courses required to qualify for the New York bar exam. Vanderbilt LL.M. students choose their courses from the law school's extensive curriculum to concentrate in areas including Law & Business; Law & Innovation, Litigation & Dispute Resolution; Intellectual Property; International Legal Studies; Energy, Environment and Land Use; and Criminal Justice. Students interested in focusing on Corporate Law have the opportunity to earn the LL.M. degree with a certificate of specialization in Law & Business. LL.M. students are fully integrated into the Vanderbilt community, studying alongside American and other international students in the J.D. program. Vanderbilt's small LL.M. program size makes it possible for students to enjoy greater access to faculty and promotes a sense of community that is one of Vanderbilt's most distinguishing attributes. An extensive network of more than 8,500 alumni in 49 states, DC, three US territories, and 32 foreign nations reflects the school's national and international reach.

Founded in 1966, Western State College of Law at Westcliff University is the longest-running law school in Orange County, California. It is known for small classes and personal attention. The LLM in US Legal Studies at Western State teaches foreign-educated lawyers and law graduates the foundations of American law. Graduates of the program will gain a comprehensive understanding of the U.S. legal system, know the basics of several specific areas of American law, learn the ethics that apply to advocates, perform modern American legal research, and gain the legal analysis skills crucial for advocacy. Additionally, the program includes simulated legal scenarios where you can apply your knowledge and skills in a practical setting. This hands-on experience prepares you for the real-world practice of law in the United States. The program is a full immersion experience that places you in the same in-person classes as J.D. students, and you will learn from experienced faculty who are experts in their fields and who will challenge you to think critically and creatively. In addition, you will benefit from your classmates' diverse perspectives and backgrounds from different countries and cultures. The program is designed to satisfy the educational requirements of the California state bar for foreign-educated attorneys. Graduates will be prepared to work in an American law office or similar setting.
